DENMARK

SCANPAN - NON STICK
WITHOUT COMPROMISE

Sustainability has been our commitment since 1956. Our non-stick products are made in Denmark under extremely strict environmental standards. From day one, we have made cookware to minimise our carbon footprint, including striving to build durable, long-lasting cookware that doesn't end up in landfill in only a few years.

Non-stick coatings are not all the same. We're as concerned with the safety of the products we use for ourselves and our families as you are, so we've worked every day to ensure our Danish cookware is made without PFOA, PFOS and all other PFAS of concern.

Our proprietary non-stick material is made in Europe and meets some of the strictest government regulations in the world - environmental, food safety, and manufacturing practices. All components in our cookware are safe, environmentally inert, and the non-stick material is completely bound inside the hardened surface of our pans, so there is no risk of these migrating out. The Danish consumer council TÆNK has deemed cookware made with these ingredients completely safe, as has the FDA.

SCANPAN.
Sustainably built. Built to last.
